Miles Delong of Orange township died on Thursday of last week and was buried on Sunday. His age was 47 years. Three children survive him, his wife having died a few years ago. He was a son of Henry Delong, who is now about 80 years old and has buried all his family. The funeral took place at McHenry's church, and was conducted by Rev. Straub.

The Demorest Contest which was held in the M. E. church at Stillwater on the evening January 14th was a decided success, the contestants eight in number acquited themselves very creditably. The prize was awarded to Miss Grace Amerman of Forks. The M. E choir of Benton furnished excellent music which was highly appreciated by the large audience present.

The election of A. N. Yost Esq. on Saturday last, as Secretary of the Columbia County Agricultural Society is a matter of congratulation for the organization. Mr. Yost for several years has acted as assistant to the Secretary at fair time, and is fully conversant with the duties of the office. During his incumbency the office will not be used for any political purpose, and there will be no free distribution of tickets.

M. P Lutz, the retiring Secretary, has filled the position for several years very acceptably, and could have retained it had he so desired, but he expressed his determination not to accept a reelection, as the pay was not commensurate with the work required.

No orator has a wider or better reputation than George R Wendling, and such men seldom visit our town. He will be at the Opera House Tuesday night next. Be sure to hear him. Tickets only 50 cts at Dentler's and Brooke's.

COLUMBIA COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the Columbia County Agricultural, Horticultural and Mechanical Association was held in the Court House last Saturday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by President P. A. Evans, and Messrs H. V. White and R. R. Little were nominated for chairman. Mr. White declined and Mr. Little was unanimously elected. G. E Wilbur and F. B. Hartman were elected Secretaries, and M. P. Lutz, reading clerk. Minutes of last year's meeting were read and approved. The roll was then called, and out of a membership of 202, only 32 were absent. On motion the reading of the Treasurer's statement was dispensed with as printed slips had been circulated among the members. Mr. Brown made a statement comparing the receipts of the past year with former years, showing that in most respects the receipts of 1891 were ahead of previous years.

C. L. Sands moved that the salaries of the officers be fixed the same as last year. Motion seconded and carried The pay of the officers is as follows: Secretary $125, Treasurer $100, President $75, all the others $50 each. The election of officers was next in order. The chair appointed C. W Terwilliger and H. V. White as tellers for the office of President. Ellis Eves and J. P Freas were nominated for President. The roll was called and the votes were deposited in a box in the centre of the room. J. K. Grotz moved that the balance of the ticket be voted all at once, seconded, and a vote being taken, it was lost

M. C. Vance, Jere Kostenbauder, J. O Warner, F. H. Hagenbuch and R. W. Smith, were nominated for Vice Presidents The chair appointed John L. Moyer, J. H. Aikman and C. E Adams as tellers.

The tellers on the vote for President reported that Ellis Eves had received 95 votes, and J. P. Freas 66 votes. The chair declared Mr. Eves elected.

For Secretary the following persons were nominated: A. N Yost, T. J. Vanderslice. The chair appointed Fred Hagenbuch, C. L. Hartman and C. A. Kleim as tellers to take the vote for Secretary.

J. C. Brown was nominated for Treasurer, and being the only candidate, the Secretary was instructed to cast the vote of the Society, which was done and Mr. Brown was declared elected Treasurer.

For Librarian, Thos. Webb and W. B. Allen were nominated. The chair appointed F. P. Drinker and William Girton as tellers.

The following persons were nominated for Executive Committee: J. N. Gordon, Arthur Creasy, A. B. Hartman, J. O. Warner, and Levi Fester. The name of J. O. Warner having been already voted on for the office of Vice President it was thought best to await the result of that ballot before voting for him for another office, and therefore on motion the election of auditors was proceeded with.

The names of G. E. Wilbur, C. E. Adams, J. M. White and D. A. Hess were put in nomination for auditors. D. Bryfogle and W. B. Taylor were appointed tellers.

The tellers on the vote for Vice President being ready to report announced the vote as follows; M. C. Vance 150 votes, J. Kostenbauder 146, R. W. Smith 153, J. O. Warner 96, F. H. Hagenbuch 81. The first four were declared elected.

The chair appointed Ellis Eves, P. A. Evans and C. L. Sands as tellers of the vote for Executive Committee.

The tellers appointed on the vote for Secretary reported that A. N. Yost, had received 81 votes, and T. J. Vanderslice 75 votes. The chair declared Mr. Yost duly elected.

The tellers on the vote for Librarian reported that Thomas Webb had received 99 votes, and W. B. Allen 52 votes. The chair declared Mr. Webb elected.

Mr. Brown offered the following amendment to the constitution: The constitution to be amended by inserting the following as Article 3.

SECTION 7. When any member shall become in arrears for three annual dues, his previous payments shall be forfeited to the Society, so the Treasurer is hereby authorized immediately after each annual meeting to strike the names of all such from the roll of members. Such person after once having forfeited his membership can rejoin the Society by complying with all the conditions and requirements governing his original entry after first paying to the Treasurer the three dollars unpaid dues, which together with the sum forfeited shall not be included in the Ten dollars necessary to be paid for a Perpetual Membership.

While waiting for the reports of tellers Mr. Eves, the newly elected President was called upon, and made a few remarks.

The result of the vote on Executive Committee was as follows: A. B Hartman 115, Artinr Creasy 109, Levi Fester 86, J. N. Gordon, 55. The first three were elected.

Death of Adam W. C. Keller.

At a special meeting of Mountain Lodge No. 274 I. O. O. F., Jan. 13, 1892, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted.

WHEREAS: It has seemed fit and proper, in the allwise providence of our Creator, to take from our band of brothers, our esteemed brother Past Grand Adam W. C. Keller, in whose demise we fully realize the loss of a worthy brother and esteemed citizen; and whose family mourn the loss of a loving husband and kind father. The community in which he lived loses a a man of good principles and sentiments. Bro. Keller was a consistent member and class leader in the M. E. Church.

The example of his life and character affords one worthy of imitation. Be it therefore

Resolved, That we sympathize with the bereaved family in their dark hour of affliction, and commend them for consolation to the same God in whom the departed put his trust.

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days, and that a copy of this preamble and resolution be presented to the family of the deceased, Orangeville, Pa.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES.

Last Friday evening Jan. 15th the the third entertainment of this year's "Students' Lecture Course" was enjoyed in Institute Hall. Mrs. H. E. Monroe delivered her most elegant lecture entitled — "England, Her Shrines and People." The views in every case were most excellent, and the descriptions given by the lecturer were at once beautiful and instructive

The next number in this well selected course of lectures comes Feb. 12, and will be given by that wonderful impersonator Mr. Leland T. Powers, in his famous rendition of "David Garrick." This is the entertainment in which Mr. Powers has gained his very wide reputation. Don't forget the date, Feb. 12.

On Monday evening Jan. 18, a most enjoyable time was afforded all the members of the faculty of our school. This came in the form of an invitation from Mr. and Mrs. Newton Walker, on Rock street to tea with them on that evening, this being the occasion of Mr. Walker's 51st birthday.

After a most elaborate serving of good things for the inner man, to enumerate which would overtax our limited acquaintance with the technicalities of the dining-room, all repaired to the parlors to spend the evening in discussing the current news and in the playing of various games.

Almost every Saturday at this time of the year many of the teachers are drawn upon by the various County Superintendents and teachers to assist in Local Institute work. Recently Prof. Noetling has been to Elysburg and Numedia, and Profs. Bakeless and Hartline to Buckhorn.

The attendance for the Spring term has never before been so promising. Already it has been found necessary to rent an additional building near the Normal for the accommodation of the threatened overflow of students.

Almost every room in the large dormitory is already engaged and we have not yet reached the middle of the winter term.

Teachers and the public generally are beginning to recognize the fact that we have here a practical Normal training school.

MILLVILLE.

Everybody is enjoying the sleighing.

Hannah John was taken very sick at her son's J. L. John on Saturday afternoon the 9th, inst.

The grip is giving some of our townsmen a lively shaking up. As yet it has not assumed dangerous characteristics.

The funeral of Phineas Welliver of Greenwood that occured on Sunday the 10th inst., was largly attended. Interment at Jerseytown. He had carried the mail from Greenwood to Bloomsburg for some time.

The engine of the W. & W. Railway jumped the track on Monday the 11th, on its way to Orangeville, at a point near C. W. Eves' farm, but fortunately the coaches remained on the track, so no one was hurt.

G.

The editor of the Towanda Reporter Journal, in an article addressed to the boys, makes the following statement, which is true as gospel: The idea that an abundance of money is a good thing is all right; but the idea that it is the chief good thing is all wrong. Every young man should strive to earn a comfortable living and save up something against the "rainy day" which is more likely to come if one isn't prepared for it. But while the first social and civil duty of the ordinary man is to earn an honest living, and while it is commendable to "get on in the world," no one should forget that wealth is only a secondary good. The aristocracy of intellect and the aristocracy of character are higher than the aristocracy of wealth.

Robert Stiff died on Tuesday night at his home on corner of Fourth and West streets, aged 80 years. Mr. Stiff was born in England and came to America forty years ago and settled at Bloomsburg, where he has resided ever since. He was a miner, and for some years had charge of the iron mines of McKelvy, Neal & Co. He was an earnest member of the M. E. Church, and a strong believer in total abstinence. Four children survive him, Mrs. Cooke of this town, Mrs Lake of South Dakota, Wesley of Wyoming, and Moses of Flushing, Ohio. Mrs. Stiff died about five years ago. The funeral services will be held to-day, Friday, at 2 o'clock.

An artificial eye greatly improves the appearance of a person who has lost a natural eye. Those inserted by Dr. Brown look natural while the cost is within the reach of all.

UNION REVIVAL MEETINGS.

At a meeting of the executive Committee, held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, Rev. I M. Patterson presiding, it was decided to hold Union Services in the several churches next week as following: Monday evening in the Evangelical church, Wednesday evening in the Baptist church, Thursday evening in the Lutheran church, and Friday evening in the Presbyterian church. On the following Tuesday evening, Feb 2 the union meeting will be continued in the Opera House, conducted by the evangelist Rev. Arthur J Smith. The singing which promises to be a very interesting and helpful feature of the meetings will be provided by Mr. and Mrs. Smith and by a large union choir under the direction of Prof. Niles.

It was also resolved to request the merchants to close their places of business at half past seven o'clock during these meetings, and a committee was appointed to call upon them with a petition to this effect.

A noonday prayer-meeting for men only, for the purpose of asking God's blessing on the revival services, will be held in Y. M. C. A. hall each day, beginning at twelve o'clock and continuing twenty minutes. It is requested that all christian people, wherever they may be will observe this hour for prayer for this object.

Sleeping for Two Years.

A POLE WHO IS PUZZLING THE PHYSICIANS OF WILKES-BARRE.

WILKES-BARRE, January 18.

The local physicians are studying a case which is a physiological puzzle. About two years ago John Levichi, a young Pole, was injured in the mines. He was carried in a comatose state to the hospital. There nothing could be done for him. The patient suffered no pain apparently, but he insisted on sleeping thirteen hours out of the twenty-four. The hours he was awake he would devote to feasting. When his appetite was satisfied he would go off into a deep slumber at once, which would last for fourteen hours more. The doctors were puzzled and removed him to the Poor House.

A number of physicians examined the patient to-day. They will make a report to the medical society. Superintendent Eschelberg, of the poor farm, says it is certainly a remarkable case He has tried all means to keep the man awake without success. One time the Polander was put astride a horse. Another horseman held him in the saddle. The horse was made run, gallop and jump, but the Polander would not wake up.

The Muncy Bank.

The directors of the First National Bank of Muncy seem to have hit upon a plan of closing their mouths about as tight as the bank has been closed since the examiner took charge a week ago. Although the directors were in session almost all of Saturday they refused to give out any information regarding the business transacted. The rumor that the bank had been reorganized on Saturday seems to have been without foundation. The statement of the examiner, it is asserted, will show there is a shortage of $20,800.

The amount has not been paid into the bank by the Directors. Mr. Green continues to talk confidently of a vindication, and says he will explain some transactions at his hearing before Commissioner Bently that will surprise the people and make food for more gossip than his arrest has.—Williamsport Republican.

Will be With Us.

On Monday we will gladly welcome "O'Flynn in Mexico," and it will be some satisfaction to all of us to know that this is an entertainment that comes with the strongest endorsement of press and prominent public men, that originality will shine supreme, that the performers have been selected from the best material, and that the play from a dramatic, comic and singing standpoint has been commended by the ablest critics of the world. Nothing in the line of stage dressing and handsome decoration has ever been attempted, that is on a par with this beautiful production, and we can only say that those who neglect to avail themselves of the opportunity to witness this marvelous performance will miss the greatest treat of the season.

A faded or gray beard may be colored a beautiful and natural brown or black, at will, by using Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers.

Look out for the entertainment in the Lutheran church on the 30th of January.

PERSONAL.

Wm. S. Hess, and wife of Fowlersville were in town Wednesday.

W. W. Lowry, has been confined to the house for the past week with La Grippe.

John R. Townsend attended the meeting of the Democratic State Committee at Harrisburg on Wednesday.

C. H. Reice, was at Danville, Tuesday attending the funeral of Mr. Haffer who was buried by the masonic order.

I. W. McKelvy was confined to the house several days during the past week with an attack of the grip.

Lloyd P. Zaner the popular liveryman of Jamison City was in town on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Lockard returned home last week. They should have reached here at 8 o'clock on Friday evening, but a broken axle on a freight train at Avondale delayed them until three o'clock Saturday morning.

Ex-Senator Buckalew has been confined to the house, and part of the time to his bed, since December 30th. On Monday he was out for the first time, and was driven up to the First National Bank to attend a meeting of the Board of Directors. He is not yet able to attend to business regularly.

Prof I. W. Niles has been engaged as organist at the Baptist church.

Mrs. Milton Charles died at Wilkes-Barre, last week Tuesday A number of years ago she resided in Bloomsburg.

Rev. C. L. Sones will conduct services at the Evangelical church on Sunday next, morning and evening.

Mrs. David Edwards was buried on Wednesday. Her husband was buried about two weeks ago. She was a member of the M. E. Church.

The first half of the entertainment in the Lutheran church on the 30th of January, will be given by the little folks, who will be well trained to do bright things. Come and see them. Adults 25 cents, children 15 cents.

"O'Flynn in Mexico" was given in the Opera House a few weeks ago, and it was one of the best shows that has been given here for a long time. This company will return next Monday night, and they are deserving of a full house.

On Tuesday afternoon snow fell to the depth of several inches, and it grew much colder. Good sleighing is the result, and numerous parties have taken advantage of it. A large load drove to Daniel McHenry's at Stillwater on Wednesday night, and had a very enjoyable time.

At the annual election of the Bloomsburg Silk Mill on Monday, the following officers were chosen; President, Pompe Ratti; Treasurer and General Manager, Joseph Ratti; Secretary, L. E. Waller; Directors, Joseph Ratti, L. E. Waller, C. C. Peacock, E. P. Williams, G. S. Robbins, J. W. Evans and C. W. Miller. A dividend of two and one-half per cent was declared.

Death of Adam W. C. Keller.

At a special meeting of Mountain Lodge No. 274 I. O. O. F., Jan. 13, 1892, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted.

WHEREAS: It has seemed fit and proper, in the allwise providence of our Creator, to take from our band of brothers, our esteemed brother Past Grand Adam W. C. Keller, in whose demise we fully realize the loss of a worthy brother and esteemed citizen; and whose family mourn the loss of a loving husband and kind father. The community in which he lived loses a a man of good principles and sentiments. Bro. Keller was a consistent member and class leader in the M. E. Church.

The example of his life and character affords one worthy of imitation. Be it therefore

Resolved, That we sympathize with the bereaved family in their dark hour of affliction, and commend them for consolation to the same God in whom the departed put his trust.

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days, and that a copy of this preamble and resolution be presented to the family of the deceased, Orangeville, Pa.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES.

Last Friday evening Jan. 15th the the third entertainment of this year's "Students' Lecture Course" was enjoyed in Institute Hall. Mrs. H. E. Monroe delivered her most elegant lecture entitled — "England, Her Shrines and People." The views in every case were most excellent, and the descriptions given by the lecturer were at once beautiful and instructive

The next number in this well selected course of lectures comes Feb. 12, and will be given by that wonderful impersonator Mr. Leland T. Powers, in his famous rendition of "David Garrick." This is the entertainment in which Mr. Powers has gained his very wide reputation. Don't forget the date, Feb. 12.

On Monday evening Jan. 18, a most enjoyable time was afforded all the members of the faculty of our school. This came in the form of an invitation from Mr. and Mrs. Newton Walker, on Rock street to tea with them on that evening, this being the occasion of Mr. Walker's 51st birthday.

After a most elaborate serving of good things for the inner man, to enumerate which would overtax our limited acquaintance with the technicalities of the dining-room, all repaired to the parlors to spend the evening in discussing the current news and in the playing of various games.

Almost every Saturday at this time of the year many of the teachers are drawn upon by the various County Superintendents and teachers to assist in Local Institute work. Recently Prof. Noetling has been to Elysburg and Numedia, and Profs. Bakeless and Hartline to Buckhorn.

The attendance for the Spring term has never before been so promising. Already it has been found necessary to rent an additional building near the Normal for the accommodation of the threatened overflow of students.

Almost every room in the large dormitory is already engaged and we have not yet reached the middle of the winter term.

Teachers and the public generally are beginning to recognize the fact that we have here a practical Normal training school.

MILLVILLE.

Everybody is enjoying the sleighing.

Hannah John was taken very sick at her son's J. L. John on Saturday afternoon the 9th, inst.

The grip is giving some of our townsmen a lively shaking up. As yet it has not assumed dangerous characteristics.

The funeral of Phineas Welliver of Greenwood that occured on Sunday the 10th inst., was largly attended. Interment at Jerseytown. He had carried the mail from Greenwood to Bloomsburg for some time.

The engine of the W. & W. Railway jumped the track on Monday the 11th, on its way to Orangeville, at a point near C. W. Eves' farm, but fortunately the coaches remained on the track, so no one was hurt.

G.

The editor of the Towanda Reporter Journal, in an article addressed to the boys, makes the following statement, which is true as gospel: The idea that an abundance of money is a good thing is all right; but the idea that it is the chief good thing is all wrong. Every young man should strive to earn a comfortable living and save up something against the "rainy day" which is more likely to come if one isn't prepared for it. But while the first social and civil duty of the ordinary man is to earn an honest living, and while it is commendable to "get on in the world," no one should forget that wealth is only a secondary good. The aristocracy of intellect and the aristocracy of character are higher than the aristocracy of wealth.

Robert Stiff died on Tuesday night at his home on corner of Fourth and West streets, aged 80 years. Mr. Stiff was born in England and came to America forty years ago and settled at Bloomsburg, where he has resided ever since. He was a miner, and for some years had charge of the iron mines of McKelvy, Neal & Co. He was an earnest member of the M. E. Church, and a strong believer in total abstinence. Four children survive him, Mrs. Cooke of this town, Mrs Lake of South Dakota, Wesley of Wyoming, and Moses of Flushing, Ohio. Mrs. Stiff died about five years ago. The funeral services will be held to-day, Friday, at 2 o'clock.

An artificial eye greatly improves the appearance of a person who has lost a natural eye. Those inserted by Dr. Brown look natural while the cost is within the reach of all.

UNION REVIVAL MEETINGS.

At a meeting of the executive Committee, held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, Rev. I M. Patterson presiding, it was decided to hold Union Services in the several churches next week as following: Monday evening in the Evangelical church, Wednesday evening in the Baptist church, Thursday evening in the Lutheran church, and Friday evening in the Presbyterian church. On the following Tuesday evening, Feb 2 the union meeting will be continued in the Opera House, conducted by the evangelist Rev. Arthur J Smith. The singing which promises to be a very interesting and helpful feature of the meetings will be provided by Mr. and Mrs. Smith and by a large union choir under the direction of Prof. Niles.

It was also resolved to request the merchants to close their places of business at half past seven o'clock during these meetings, and a committee was appointed to call upon them with a petition to this effect.

A noonday prayer-meeting for men only, for the purpose of asking God's blessing on the revival services, will be held in Y. M. C. A. hall each day, beginning at twelve o'clock and continuing twenty minutes. It is requested that all christian people, wherever they may be will observe this hour for prayer for this object.

Sleeping for Two Years.

A POLE WHO IS PUZZLING THE PHYSICIANS OF WILKES-BARRE.

WILKES-BARRE, January 18.

The local physicians are studying a case which is a physiological puzzle. About two years ago John Levichi, a young Pole, was injured in the mines. He was carried in a comatose state to the hospital. There nothing could be done for him. The patient suffered no pain apparently, but he insisted on sleeping thirteen hours out of the twenty-four. The hours he was awake he would devote to feasting. When his appetite was satisfied he would go off into a deep slumber at once, which would last for fourteen hours more. The doctors were puzzled and removed him to the Poor House.

A number of physicians examined the patient to-day. They will make a report to the medical society. Superintendent Eschelberg, of the poor farm, says it is certainly a remarkable case He has tried all means to keep the man awake without success. One time the Polander was put astride a horse. Another horseman held him in the saddle. The horse was made run, gallop and jump, but the Polander would not wake up.

The Muncy Bank.

The directors of the First National Bank of Muncy seem to have hit upon a plan of closing their mouths about as tight as the bank has been closed since the examiner took charge a week ago. Although the directors were in session almost all of Saturday they refused to give out any information regarding the business transacted. The rumor that the bank had been reorganized on Saturday seems to have been without foundation. The statement of the examiner, it is asserted, will show there is a shortage of $20,800.

The amount has not been paid into the bank by the Directors. Mr. Green continues to talk confidently of a vindication, and says he will explain some transactions at his hearing before Commissioner Bently that will surprise the people and make food for more gossip than his arrest has.—Williamsport Republican.

Will be With Us.

On Monday we will gladly welcome "O'Flynn in Mexico," and it will be some satisfaction to all of us to know that this is an entertainment that comes with the strongest endorsement of press and prominent public men, that originality will shine supreme, that the performers have been selected from the best material, and that the play from a dramatic, comic and singing standpoint has been commended by the ablest critics of the world. Nothing in the line of stage dressing and handsome decoration has ever been attempted, that is on a par with this beautiful production, and we can only say that those who neglect to avail themselves of the opportunity to witness this marvelous performance will miss the greatest treat of the season.

A faded or gray beard may be colored a beautiful and natural brown or black, at will, by using Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers.

Look out for the entertainment in the Lutheran church on the 30th of January.

PERSONAL.

Wm. S. Hess, and wife of Fowlersville were in town Wednesday.

W. W. Lowry, has been confined to the house for the past week with La Grippe.

John R. Townsend attended the meeting of the Democratic State Committee at Harrisburg on Wednesday.

C. H. Reice, was at Danville, Tuesday attending the funeral of Mr. Haffer who was buried by the masonic order.

I. W. McKelvy was confined to the house several days during the past week with an attack of the grip.

Lloyd P. Zaner the popular liveryman of Jamison City was in town on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Lockard returned home last week. They should have reached here at 8 o'clock on Friday evening, but a broken axle on a freight train at Avondale delayed them until three o'clock Saturday morning.

Ex-Senator Buckalew has been confined to the house, and part of the time to his bed, since December 30th. On Monday he was out for the first time, and was driven up to the First National Bank to attend a meeting of the Board of Directors. He is not yet able to attend to business regularly.

Prof I. W. Niles has been engaged as organist at the Baptist church.

Mrs. Milton Charles died at Wilkes-Barre, last week Tuesday. A number of years ago she resided in Bloomsburg.

Rev. C. L. Sones will conduct services at the Evangelical church on Sunday next, morning and evening.

Mrs. David Edwards was buried on Wednesday. Her husband was buried about two weeks ago. She was a member of the M. E. Church.

The first half of the entertainment in the Lutheran church on the 30th of January, will be given by the little folks, who will be well trained to do bright things. Come and see them. Adults 25 cents, children 15 cents.

"O'Flynn in Mexico" was given in the Opera House a few weeks ago, and it was one of the best shows that has been given here for a long time. This company will return next Monday night, and they are deserving of a full house.

On Tuesday afternoon snow fell to the depth of several inches, and it grew much colder. Good sleighing is the result, and numerous parties have taken advantage of it. A large load drove to Daniel McHenry's at Stillwater on Wednesday night, and had a very enjoyable time.

At the annual election of the Bloomsburg Silk Mill on Monday, the following officers were chosen; President, Pompe Ratti; Treasurer and General Manager, Joseph Ratti; Secretary, L. E. Waller; Directors, Joseph Ratti, L. E. Waller, C. C. Peacock, E. P. Williams, G. S. Robbins, J. W. Evans and C. W. Miller. A dividend of two and one-half per cent was declared.

W. Shutt; Representative to the Grand Castle, Geo. C. Roan.

TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT.

Standing room will be sold at a premium on Monday, January 25th at the Opera House, when Alfred Kelcy and his Company will present the laugh factory. Tickets now on sale at Dentler's Boot and Shoe store.

DR. MEREDITH APPOINTED.

The Trustees of the State Hospital for the Insane, at Danville, on Thursday of last week elected Dr. H. B. Meredith Superintendent to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. S. S. Shultz. This is an excellent appointment. Dr. Meredith has been an assistant to Dr. Shultz for some years, and is thoroughly qualified for the duties of the responsible position.

THE LOVER'S REASONING.

Tell why I love her? Tell me why,
Turning from murky town and pushing men,
You love the woodland path, the placid sky.
I'll answer then.

Why do I love her? Analyze
Where in the violets the perfume is,
Where in the music's strain the tears arize.
Can you do this?

Tell why I love her? Yes, when you
Reveal the secrets which in snowdrops lie,
Or strain the beauty from the drops of dew.
Then I'll tell why.

Why do I love her? First make clear
Whence steals through minster aisles the restful spell
That fills with mystic sense the atmosphere.
I then will tell.

Yes, love, I turn to thee from glare and crowd,
Tender as dales in spring, as summer's cloud;
Soothing as gentlest song, soft as perfume,
Purer than beads of dew or snowdrop's bloom.
I in thy presence rest, where tumults cease;
The minster gate is closed, within is peace.

MR. MAXFIELD'S LESSON.

Mr. Maxfield was a very positive man; when he was sure of a thing he was very sure, and as he sometimes jumped at conclusions he occasionally found himself in a disagreeable predicament.

"Hannah," he said to his wife, coming out into the kitchen one morning in hot haste, "what on earth have you done with that package of papers I left on the mantel in the sitting room? I wish to goodness you would let my things alone so that I could ever find them!"

"Well, I have left them alone this time," answered Hannah rather sharply. "I didn't even know there were any papers there."

"What's the use of talking so?" said Mr. Maxfield. "I put them there before breakfast, and there hasn't a soul been into the room but you. Do try and think what you have done with them."

Mrs. Maxfield worked away at her cake in silence. Mr. Maxfield walked around the kitchen once or twice, lifted the stove lid, and then spoke again.

"Suppose I shall have to wait your pleasure, but my time is worth something, so if you will tell me as quickly as possible you will greatly oblige me."

"I told you I had neither seen nor touched your papers, John."

"And I tell you you must have. I know positively that I put them there before breakfast; they are gone now, and you were the only person in the room."

Mrs. Maxfield's face turned crimson. She was busy and tired, and this last remark was too much for her.

"John," she said very clearly and decidedly, "no one, not even my husband, shall as good as tell me I lie without apologizing for it. I shall have nothing to say about your papers or anything else until you do."

In her way Mrs. Maxfield was just as positive as her husband. She did not usually jump at conclusions as he did, but once she came to one, she was there body and soul.

Mr. Maxfield concluded at this juncture that for the present at least he had best betake himself elsewhere. So, trying his best to appear unconcerned, he sauntered out into the hall, took up his hat, and found underneath it, on the hall table, those miserable papers.

"Con—found them!" he said with much emphasis, under his breath, secreting them in his pocket.

It came to him like a flash; just after he had put them on the mantel he had thought he saw Lawyer Grover coming down the street, and wishing to hand them to him he had hurried to the door, only to find it was not Mr. Grover after all. When he went back he had put them down with his hat without thinking.

"And there I've gone and riled Hannah up for nothing. Why, in the name of goodness, couldn't I have held my tongue until I had looked around a little, anyway? And, blame it, she said I must apologize! Great Scott! I would rather plow the 10 acre lot 10 times over! What in the world shall I do? I wonder if I couldn't sort of work her around without giving in? Goodness, it fairly makes me sweat to think of having to own up deliberately, after all I said, that I put the miserable, good for nothing things away myself. I don't know but I'd rather take the money out of the bank and give her the phaeton she had been wanting these two years. I declare, I would."

Now Mr. Maxfield did not think all this at once; it came to him in snatches as he went about his work, and when he came in to dinner he was blandness itself.

"How are you getting on with your baking?" he queried, as he performed his ablutions at the sink.

Mrs. Maxfield took a pie from the oven and carried it to the pantry without vouchsafing any reply.

"I wish those everlasting papers had been in Halifax," thought Mr. Maxfield, as he washed. "No use trying to do everything to-day, you'll get used up," he said, burying his face in the long towel as he spoke.

"Don't fret about me. Take care of yourself and your papers, and I'll see to myself," was the icy reply, and Mr. Maxfield subsided.

He repeated his efforts at night, but with no better success.

"I'll try the phaeton to-morrow; but I don't know as even that will fetch her," he thought, as he lay down to sleep.

Accordingly he began at the breakfast table:

"I've been looking over things and figuring up a little, Hannah, and I don't know but I could spare you enough for that phaeton, if you want it."

Hannah passed him his coffee as coolly and unconcernedly as though he had spoken of buying a pound of cheese, or something like that.

"You would like that wouldn't you?" queried Mr. Maxfield anxiously.

"No, John Maxfield; at present I wouldn't even look at it. I meant exactly what I said, and I still mean it."

"Blame it!" thought the unfortunate man, "she's bound I shall apologize, and she won't forget what I said about the phaeton, either. If she would only ask if I've found them, so that I could sort of explain it along easy, and not have to come out plump and say I was mistaken."

But Hannah had no intention of doing any such a thing, and the day wore on in comparative silence.

To-morrow would be their wedding anniversary. Were they to spend that day of all days in this fashion? Mr. Maxfield tossed restlessly upon his pillow most of the night. Mrs. Maxfield appeared to sleep the sleep of the just, whether she did or not.

Morning dawned at last, and Mr. Maxfield made up his mind that since it must be done, it must.

"But it will be the toughest job I've struck for one spell," he said as he meditated in the barn.

He tried his best to think of some easy way of putting it, but he gave it up in despair at last and started for the house on a run. Mrs. Maxfield was in the kitchen busy picking chickens, but there was a suspicion of redness about her eyes, and she had not gotten any farther in her work than she was when he went out half an hour ago.

"I—was a blasted fool, Hannah!" said Mr. Maxfield as quick as he opened the door, before he could lose his courage.

"Oh, John!" cried Mrs. Maxfield, dropping the chicken to the floor, and springing to meet him. "Oh, John, I am so thankful!"

"The dickens you are! Well, that's a pretty go," said he, trying to laugh, but feeling rather misty about the eyes himself.

"You know what I mean," sobbed his wife. "I thought you wouldn't ever say anything, and I didn't know, and I wanted you to be sorry and love me just the same as you used to. Oh, John, don't you?"

"I guess I do, Hannah, and I was mean; but I shall not be sure of anything again, in a hurry. And you're going to have a phaeton and anything else you want."

"I don't feel now as if I cared whether I had anything or not. Oh, John, you don't know how thankful I am!"

"Maybe not," responded her husband. "Maybe not; but I feel as if the whole Rocky Mountain range had been lifted off my shoulders. I have learned one lesson, anyway, and I don't believe I shall forget it in a hurry."

Great Historic Famines.

Famines were formerly much more common than during the last half century, and many notable calamities of this nature are mentioned by historians. Not including the seven years' famine in Egypt mentioned in the Old Testament, the first great famine noted in history was in Italy, B. C. 436. Thousands of persons, driven mad by want, threw themselves into the sea and rivers to escape from further suffering. In A. D. 42 there was a great famine in Egypt, and another in Rome and the vicinity in A. D. 232. In 272 famine prevailed in the British Islands, and people ate grass, roots, and the bark of trees; thousands died in Scotland from privation in A. D. 306, and over 40,000 perished in Britain sour years later. In A. D. 450 famine prevailed all over the South of Europe, raging worst in Italy, where parents ate their children, and in 739 England, Scotland, and Wales were again ravaged, also in 823, when thousands starved, and in 954, when the crops failed for four successive years. In 1016 an awful famine raged throughout all Europe, and again from 1193 to 1195, when crop failures caused terrible suffering. In England and France the people ate the flesh of dogs and cats, and many cases of cannabalism were recorded. There were famines in England in 1251, 1315, 1336, 1348, and 1565, and a general distress prevailed also in both England and France in 1693, 1748, 1789, and 1795. The great Irish famines of 1814, 1816, 1822, 1831, and 1846 were in consequence of the failure of the potato crop, and, no doubt, in each thousands of people starved to death.

European calamities of this kind, however, dwindle into insignificance when compared with the colossal dimensions of a famine in the crowded countries of Asia. In 1837 over 800,000 human beings starved to death in northwest India, and in 1860 another famine carried off 500,000. In 1865, 1,000,000 people were supposed to have starved in Bengal and Orissa, and in 1868 the death roll from famine in Rajpootana exceeded 1,500,000. Even as late as 1877 about 500,000 perished in Bombay, Madras, and Mysore. The worst calamity of this kind ever recorded took place in the years 1877 and 1878, in China. Complete crop failure took place in all the northern provinces, and the number of those who perished from want of food was estimated at 9,500,000. As the internal communications of a country are improved the danger of wholesale starvation is much lessened. It is not likely that, save in Russia, Persia, and China, there will again be such dreadful loss of life as has been experienced from the failure of the crops.

The "Fighting Editor" Is a Back Number.

Fighting men, like drunken men, are to be avoided, and the journals of fighting editors are journals to be avoided. Civilization has passed the duello a long way. It is disreputable. It flourished with the bowl, and has gone out of season with that deadener of the faculties and enfeebler of the intellect. It is a relic of barbarism, and ought by the public voice of New Orleans to be declared as much a crime as it is known to be in San Francisco, or New York, in Chicago, or Philadelphia. It is a custom followed by the curses of thousands of widows and orphans through many generations, and ought not to be countenanced anywhere. The law ought to suffice, and does suffice, for all men, and all men should scrupulously live up to it.—Memphis Commercial.

Of the many curious customs which mark Brittany as an especially interesting field for the traveler is this one relating to marriage. At the close of the wedding ceremony the bridegroom gives the bride a box on the ear, saying: "That is how it feels when you make me vexed," after which he kisses her, adding, "and thus when you treat me well."

WAR TALK INCREASING.

HOSTILITIES WITH CHILI SEEM NOW TO BE INEVITABLE.

War May be Declared in a Few Days—Activity in Washington—Chilians Expect War—They are Said to be Relying on England for Aid.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The war feeling in Washington against Chili grows apace. Not an hour passed yesterday that did not see some new indication of preparation for hostility by the navy and war departments, or that did not produce some added expression by members of Congress in favor of supporting the president in maintaining the national dignity and enforcing proper reparation for the Valparaiso massacre.

All are anxiously awaiting the president's message.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 19.—Private advices from authentic sources in Chili, state that among the common people of that country, the talk is that war will result. The Chilians have no idea that their government will back down or retract any word or act; they consider themselves strong and expect additional strength from England.

They agree that the United States is able to wipe their vessels off the face of the ocean, but they doubt not their ability to secure recognition and aid from England or to secure some of England's war ships by purchase.

If the informant is correct, representatives of the Chilian Government are now in England working on both propositions. According to orders received to-day the cruiser Charleston will sail on Tuesday or Wednesday for San Francisco. She is simply waiting the arrival of its new paymaster and surgeon.

RIDICULED BY GOV. WINANS.

It Wouldn't be Worth the $300,000,000 it Would Cost to Whip Chili.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 20.—Gov. Winans of Michigan in speaking of the prospect of a war with Chili says:

"There can be no good excuse for a war with Chili. That little Godforsaken country is beneath our notice. If it was England now, I shouldn't mind so much, but differences with such a country should be readily settled by arbitration. It would be much the cheapest and the best way. What is the use of having Pan-American Congresses with these little South American countries as participants and then, in the very first flurry, resort to the old barbaric powder and lead arguments? It isn't consistent. We should demand a full indemnity for all that we may have suffered from the Chilians, but I believe in demanding it otherwise than at the cannon's mouth.

"Do you know," he said, "that a war with Chili would cost this country $300,000,000, with the chances largely in access of that figure? Why, it costs $1,500 every time you fire off some of those new-fangled guns on the new war ships, and all for what? All for licking a little one-horse country, in which no glory could possibly be obtained. The army and navy are, of course, anxious for a war. They have been out of a job so long that they very naturally feel as though it was time they were doing something. I have a son in the regular army and he is loud in his demand for Chilian blood, but a little cool consideration is worth all this wild enthusiasm."

MORE TROUBLE IN TENNESSEE.

The Miners Becoming More Aggressive and the Situation Serious.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 20.—Nearly 2,000 miners congregated on the hillsides about the Coal Creek stockade yesterday morning and kept up a constant firing of small arms, and went through a dance around the two small block-houses which contain 200 State troops. The miners came so close to the pickets that an exchange of shots followed. None of the soldiers was hit, and it is thought that the miners escaped without injury.

About two weeks ago a soldier accidentally shot and killed a convict, and since then the miners have become more aggressive. Further trouble is expected. They swear that when they get ready they will exterminate the civil guard, State troops, and the convicts, and forever end convict labor in the mountains of East Tennessee. The officer in charge has asked for reenforcements, and one company of infantry has been sent out from Knoxville. The miners say that no more soldiers nor convicts shall enter the valley. The soldiers are well fortified, yet the miners outnumber them 100 to one. The Kentucky miners and those in and near Jellico are ready to join their Tennessee friends at a moment's notice.

WHITE CAPS IN OHIO.

A Woman Ducked in Ice Cold Water and Likely to Die.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 18.—White Caps have been getting in their work near here, and as a result the woman in the case is lying at the point of death. She is Miss Mary Shelbrook, and was charged with living illegally with Charles Peterson.

Notice was given them to leave the neighborhood of St. Johns, Darke county, within twenty-four hours or suffer the consequences. They did not heed the notice, and the visitors came promptly. The couple, who lived in great destitution, were taken from their hovel to the nearest creek. The ice was cut and the two were rapidly ducked. The mob then burned their hut and all their belongings. The woman had been ill for several weeks, and, it is believed, cannot live. She has been taken in and is being cared for by Farmer Henley. Special officers are making an examination. It is likely a dozen farmers will be arrested soon.

CHEATING IN HORSE BLANKETS

Nearly every pattern of 5/A Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. In most cases the imitation looks just as good as the genuine, but it hasn't the warp threads, and so lacks strength, and while it sells for only a little less than the genuine it isn't worth one-half as much. The fact that 5/A Horse Blankets are copied is strong evidence that they are THE STANDARD, and every buyer should see that the 5/A trade mark is sewed on the inside of the Blanket.

BYRON CLARK, A. M. M. D.
NEW YORK CITY.

SPECIALIST.

In the treatment of Chronic Diseases solicits Chronic, Obstinate cases who have obtained no relief elsewhere, and confines his practice to such cases only as are so clearly and fully developed as to make complete and positive Diagnosis without Questioning or allowing patients to make a statement of their condition. This method of examination is made in order to eliminate as far as human skill and experience can do, all elements of uncertainty in the diagnosis and treatment of diseases, and inspire confidence when lost by unsuccessful if not injurious treatment from mistaken diagnosis. On this basis of Positive Diagnosis, for treatment Dr. Clark's Experience has become directly solicited by a Thirty Year's Practice which in extent, variety and successful results is equaled by few and excelled by none. Patients, male and female, not cured by ordinary treatment or in doubt as to the nature of their diseases especially invited.

DR. CLARK, Originated, Teaches and Practices Positive Diagnosis and by confining his practice to the fully developed diseases of Men and Women has attained unusual success in the treatment of many so-called incurable maladies. If the examination is not in every strict accordance with the symptoms the patient is advised not to undergo treatment at all. The doctor can be consulted free of charge at

POULTRY NOTES.

No. 41.

Below, you will find answer to the Prize Contest given by the Fancier's Review. By comparing this number and the one that contains the questions you will have a better conception of the facts.

1. Barred Plymouth Rocks.

2. Thoroughbreds are more desirable for farmers than crosses.

3. Scoring. 4. Standard should be illustrated.

5. Perches most desirable,

6. The secret is cleanliness.

7. Awards should be published.

8. The American Poultry Association should meet in New York.

You see by the above that it is the universal opinion that the Barred Plymouth Rocks are the best "all purpose" fowl we have to-day and it will pay farmers to make a note of it.

That pure breds are more desirable for the farmer than crosses, as they cost no more to keep and give better results. W. B. GERMAN.

Tae Best Authorities,

Such as Dr. Dio Lewis, Prof. Gross, and others, agree that catarrh is not a local but a constitutional disease. It therefore requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which effectually and permanently cures catarrh. Thousands praise it.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, jaundice, biliousness, sick headache, constipation and all troubles of the digestive organs.

A Unique Magazine.

A unique experiment will be tried in the February issue of The Ladies' Home Journal. The entire number has been contributed in prose, fiction and verse by the daughters of famous parentage, as a proof that genius is often hereditary. The work of thirty of these "daughters" will be represented. These will comprise the daughters of Thackeray, Hawthorne, Dickens, James Fenimore Cooper, Horace Greeley, Mr. Gladstone, President Harrison, William Dean Howells, Senator Ingalls, Dean Bradley of Westminster, Julia Ward Howe, General Sherman, Jefferson Davis and nearly a score of others. Each article, poem or story printed in this number has been especially written for it, and the whole promises to be a successful result of an idea never before attempted in a magazine.

I have been a sufferer from catarrh for years. Having tried a number of remedies advertised as "sure cures" without obtaining any relief, I had resolved never to take any other patent medicines, when a friend advised me to try Ely's Cream Balm. I did so with great reluctance, but can now testify that after using it for six weeks I believe myself cured. It is a most agreeable remedy—an invaluable Balm. – Joseph Stewart, 624 Grand Avenue, Brooklyn. 1-22-2t.

DEATH OF THE PRINCE.

Albert Victor, the Heir Presumptive to England's Throne Gone.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Prince Albert Victor, the Duke of Clarence and Avondale, died at Sandringham this morning at 9.15.

ALBERT VICTOR DUKE OF CLARENCE.

The news of the death of the Duke of Clarence has caused widespread grief, and already demonstrations of the public feeling are everywhere apparent. On all public buildings flags are displayed at half-mast, and throughout the whole of London the sad intelligence has been received with expressions of the deepest sorrow.

By the death of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale, Prince George of Wales becomes the heir of the Prince of Wales, and, therefore, heir presumptive to the throne.

INSANE THROUGH FEAR.

Dread of Train Robbers Renders Mrs. Northrop a Maniac.

ALLIANCE, O., Jan. 18.—Several weeks ago, Mrs. Rose Northrop, accompanied by her seven-year-old daughter, left San Diego, Cal., to visit relatives in this State, several of whom live near here. Mrs. Northrop took considerable money with her, and being of a nervous disposition was greatly worried with the fear that in her trip across the continent train robbers would force her to give up the money. This so preyed upon her mind that she lost her reason, and when the train stopped at a way station in Iowa, she took her child, and started across the prairie to escape from the imaginary robbers.

After wandering around for a day and a night the woman and child were found by an attendant of an orphan asylum near which they had wandered, nearly dead from exposure. The lady was in such a condition that she could give no account of who she was. Her child, however, an unusually bright little girl, told who they were and said an uncle lived in Nebraska. He was notified of Mrs. Northrop's condition, and arriving the next day brought the mother and daughter to this city.

Mrs. Northrop is now at the home of her mother, Mrs. Lydia Baldwin, a few miles north of this city, a raving maniac. She is constantly seeking to escape or commit suicide to get away from the robbers whom she believes are still after her.

A LONG SEARCH.

The Bodies of the Entombed Hill-Farm Miners Almost Reached.

DUNBAR, Pa., Jan. 17.—Within the next few days the mystery of the Hill-farm mine will probably be solved. Within that time the miners who had been working for months are expected to penetrate the right heading, where twenty-two miners are known to have been entombed on that fateful June morning in 1890. In the dip heading it is now known that the other seven men of the ill-fated twenty-nine met their doom.

All these months Mine Boss Doran has been at work with his forces quenching the fire and lowering the waters until now the fire is known to be compressed within a small area, though it will take perhaps years to finally extinguish it, as it is supplied with air from numerous fissures which cannot be smothered. The cost to the Dunbar Furnace Company has been enormous. Water is being pumped from the right heading and the dip heading. The pumps at the bottom of the slope have been found intact. They were slightly rusted, but after a little overhauling were put to work at their old duties. Months will be consumed before the mine will be cleared of water, but the fate of the imprisoned miners, together with just how and when they died, may be learned at any time.

FORGERY OR BLACKMAIL

A Strange Suit Now to be Tried in a Quiet Ohio Town.

CANTON, O., Jan. 18.—Some time ago proceedings were commenced by Edward Snyder, proprietor of a tin store in Massillon, against Peter G. Albright, a prominent banker of that place, to collect the money claimed to be due on a $30,000 promisory note. Snyder is jealous of his wife and made an accusation against the banker, which Albright did not deny. Albright gave a note for $30,000 at the same time signing a confession acknowledging his guilt. This Snyder now says is in the hands of his attorney.

When the note was presented the signature was denied by Albright, who claimed it was a blackmail, and its payment was refused. The suit was then brought. The case has been postponed from time to time, but both sides now claim they are ready for the contest.

Spring Elections.

At the February election constables and assessors will be elected for three years; under the new law each district elects but one assessor, who does all the registering and assessing, and in the third year of his term makes the triennial assessment—hence the importance of exercising judgment in the selection that competent men may be selected. The new election law of the State goes into effect March 1, 1892. Under the new law the judges and inspectors elected next month will be required to hold the election next November. Election boards therefore should be chosen with a view to thorough competency and responsibility.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. NOYES, 820 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y. mar-6-1y.

"Since you think yourself so smart," said the exchange editor, glancing backward over his shoulder, "perhaps you can tell why the letter 't' is like Lord Byron."

Murdered.

The body of Julius Baer was found by freighters five miles west of here Tuesday morn, in a terribly mangled condition. His head and face were smashed, so as to be hardly recognized, and numerous wounds were found on his body. Mr. Baer was agent for the great blood medicine, Sulphur Bitters. Robbery was undoubtedly the motive, as he was well known to have a large sum of money on his person. As we go to press there is no clew to the perpetrators.—Colorado Press. 1-22-2t.

THE TRUE WAY

To rid the human body of the poison of disease, is to eliminate it through the pores of skin. S. S. S. not only does this, but it forces out also the germs which make the poison, and builds up the general health at the same time. Do not take any imitations or substitutes, for S. S. FRIDAY, JANUARY 22, 1892.

Democratic State Committee.

J. MARSHALL WRIGHT ELECTED CHAIRMAN.

William F. Harrity, Member of National Committee.

The State Central Democratic Committee, met in the Board of Trade Rooms at Harrisburg, Wednesday, January 20, and elected J. Marshall Wright, of Allentown, State Chairman, Benjamin M. Nead, of Harrisburg, re-elected Secretary, and Secretary of State William F. Harrity, elected member of the National Democratic Committee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. Wm. L. Scott.

The meeting was called a few minutes after one o'clock, when upon call of the roll, it was found that all the Chairmen, or substitutes, were present, except the member from Sullivan county.

There were contests from Allegheny, Philadelphia and Schuylkill counties on the question of admitting members from senatorial districts in which the county chairman resided, and which he represented by virtue of his office, thus giving those districts two votes in the State Committee. The chairman appointed A. H. Coffroth, Somerset; John M. O'Brien, Philadelphia; John C. Bane, Washington; J. H Fullmer, Lycoming, and Ed. F. Kane, Northampton; as committee on contested seats. The report said:

The Committee met and heard the respective claims of gentlemen from Allegheny, Philadelphia, Schuylkill, Westmoreland, Carbon and Fulton counties for and against the claimants. The question to be decided from the contests named, Allegheny, Philadelphia, and Schuylkill counties is as to the construction of rule five of your committee. In the contests from Carbon and Schuylkill counties the title to seats is contested by reason of alleged irregularities in the election of the different claimants. In Fulton county there is no contest, the question being the liability of D. C. Downing, the substitute, to follow instructions sent your chairman from Clement Chestnut, the county chairman.

In reference to the first contest the committee recommend that Allegheny, Philadelphia and Schuylkill counties be entitled to one member from each senatorial district, of whom the county chairman shall be one, and that, therefore, the claims of Bernard McKenna, of Allegheny, John J. Hand, of Schuylkill, B. F. Byers, Westmoreland, for seats in the committee, be not allowed.

In the Carbon county case the committee recommends the admission of John W. Eser, substitute for Frank P. Sharkey, chairman of the county committee. In the Fulton county matter we report that B. Downey is the duly named substitute of Clement Chestnut as per telegrams.

John M. O'Brien, E. F. Kane, minority members of the committee, concur in the foregoing report except as to the Carborn county contest, and recommended that Michael Cassidy be recognized and admitted as a member of the committee from said county as the duly selected chairman.

NOMINATING A CHAIRMAN.

The repot on contested seats having been disposed of by the adoption of the majority on all except the Carborn contest, and the minority report having been adopted in that case, State Chairman Kerr stated that the next business was the election of a state chairman for the ensuing year.

Hon. W. Rush Gillan of Franklin county, a substitute for John A. Shoemaker, placed in nomination the present chairman Hon. James Kerr. His nomination was seconded by John C. Bane of Washingtou county. James L. Corbett, of Green, hastily moved that Mr. Kerr be elected by acclamations. Before this motion was seconded, J. F. Baker of Union county arose and nominated J. Marshall Wright of Leghigh county, his nomination was seconded by Attorney General Hensel a substitute for John E. Malone of Lancaster county.

Upon call of the roll the result was as follows:

Wright	44
Kerr	32
Meyers	1
Not voting	1
Absent	1

On motion of W. J. Brennen of Allegheny the election of Mr. Wright was made unanimous.

H. A. Hall, of Elk county, nominated Wm. F. Harrity to fill the vacancy on the national committee. He was elected by acclamation.

The State Convention will be held at Harrisburg April 13.

THE DIFFICULTY WITH CHILI

It was expected that President Harrison would send a message to Congress on Tuesday concerning the Chilian trouble, but it was not done as Senor Montt, the Minister from Chili, has requested an extension and given assurances that an apology and full reparation will be made Speaking of the situation the Philadelphia Press says:

Instead of seeking war, President Harrison has been anxiously endeavoring for three months to avoid it. The situation has been most difficult. Our sailors are attacked in Valparaiso and done to death solely and only because they wore our uniform. Those who slipped it off escaped. The Chilian police, dealing with the mob of 1000, according to Chilian reports, attacking a few sailors, arrests twenty-three sailors and a half dozen rioters. The rioters reach jail unwounded. Every sailor is wounded. Several have stabs and bullet wounds which match police weapons. At the station, beds, bandages and hospital care are all denied by the police to dying Americans, though pleaded for by their surgeons. Contrary to custom in Valparaiso, the presence of an officer is denied at the examination of these sailors. For a month the officers and men of the Baltimore are imprisoned on their own vessel. The mob holds the streets. The Governor (Intendente) of Valparaiso tartly tells Commander Schley that if his officers and men come ashore it is at their peril

All this takes place in a city whose newspapers for ten years have teemed with abuse of this country, in which the American Consul reports he is unsafe without a guard, and under a Government which has notoriously opposed itself to the policy of the United States in seeking fr er trade, arbitration of all differences, and uniform public international regulations between American republics. For years Chilian papers have declared that the Chilian navy could sweep ours from the Pacific and levy a contribution on San Francisco. The Chilian people have certainly believed this, and the Chilian Government has acted as if it did.

Under all these exasperating circumstances, which would have led a Government of ordinary prudence and discretion to avoid the appearance of offense and discharge punctiliously all diplomatic obligations, the Chilian Administration has expressed neither regret nor apology. Diplomatic usage, which requires the offer of an indemnity in case of damage to citizens of a friendly power by a riot, if proved has been set at naught. The notes addressed to our Government have been studiously curt, insulting and offensive. Not satisfied with this, a note—now withdrawn, every word a veiled insult—has been communicated to every European power. A guard is placed on the American Legation. The American Minister is insulted in public, his person is unsafe at public ceremonials and members of his household are searched by the police. Government newspapers teem with bellicose predictions. At length a Chilian squadron is ostentatiously sent to sea with sealed orders.

From a power equal to the United States these provisions would long since have led to war. No European power would have endured them. A fleet and an ultimatum would have long since appeared off Valparaiso. Instead our Government has waited. It removed the Baltimore and replaced it by a fresh vessel and crew only to find it was our uniform. and not the commander and crew involved in a casual row for which the streets of Valparaiso were unsafe. A Provisional Government has been permitted to give way to a regular Administration No fleet has been gathered. Our vessels, however, ready for action, have been studiously disposed so as to convey no threat. Diplomotic correspondence has gone on through the usual channels. Our Minister has not been withdrawn. The pride and susceptibilities of Chili have been consulted at every point. In securing the safety of the refugees in our legation all forms have been waived in asserting the right of asylum, so its substantial reality was conceded by Chili. As it is. Chili has had the impertinence to protest against the salute of the Yorktown to the Spanish Minister because it was anxious that his visit to the gunboat with a refugee should be held a personal act and not an official call as Minister.

If, in spite of all this, Chili refuses the apology and regret required by countless precedents, and uniformity practiced in like circumstances by this country, war, if it comes, will "exist by the act of" Chili, and not of the United States. We trust even then it may be avoided. It would be a noble and notable proof of generous national confidence in arbitration if a wronged, insulted and powerful nation were to propose this course. But this would only be possible if Chili were to agree to the principle of arbitration which her representatives two years ago at the Washington Conference ostentatiously scouted when it was proposed by the United States.

The United States has nothing to gain by war. Its result could make no plainer than is to day the preponderating powet of the United States in a hemisphere half of whose population is in its territory and an even larger proportion of wealth and resources. No injury inflicted on Chili could make up for the damage war, however brief, would work to the vast interests on sea and land of a great and peaceful people. By patient long-suffering the United States for months has sought to avoid war It is Chili, and Chili alone, which to-day provokes it.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18th, 1892.

The meeting of the National Democratic Committee to be held here this week to decide where the National convention shall be held, is exciting much interest. Arrangements have been perfected by the local democrats to entertain the committee in true democratic style. Washington would like to have the convention come here, but she will have to be contented with merely wishing for it, as it is regarded as being between New York and a western city, with the chances decidedly in favor of New York, should its representatives really wish to make a winning fight.

The interest in the meeting of the executive committee of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, which is also to be held here this week is only second to that felt in the meeting of the National Committee. The purpose for which this meeting is held is not made public, further than that it is for the transaction of business important to the democratic clubs of the country. Its proceedings will, of course, be secret.

Mr. Blaine endeavored to convince the House committee on Foreign Affairs that the House ought to pass the bill pledging the endorsement of the Government to an issue of $100,000,000 of the bonds of the Nicaragua canal company, but it was labor lost, as Representative Holman's resolution, which was adopted by the House has made it certain that no such scheme can get through that body.

Representative Holman says his resolution against subsidies and government aid of any kind to private industries, and against any appropriations not actually needed, which has been criticised in some quarters, will not interfere with the passage of a river and harbor bill or any other legitimate appropriation, But it knocks the private schemes higher than a kite.

Representative Alberson, of West Virginia, introduced a resolution in the House for the appointment of a committee of seven to investigate the charges of partisanship, mismanagement and wastefulness which have been made against the Census bureau.

The ex-Czar of the House is not to be allowed to monopolize the role of clown on the floor of the present House. He has a rival in the person of Representative Boutelle. of Maine, who was so much worked up in his mind because the House adopted Representative Holman's resolution against the government subsidies of all kinds, and against the appropriation of government money for anything except to carry on the necessary business of the government, that he took upon himself the task of making a funny speech to ease his mind. After serving the House with a sort of pot pourri, made of equal parts of Dickens, Edison's phonograph and democratic economy, he jumped in over his head by hurling anathemas at the democratic party because Mrs. Flower, the wife of the present popular Governor of New York did not find the contents of the linen and china closets. as turned over by the retiring bachelor governor, to be as full and complete as she desired them to be. That was humor of the most subtle kind, wasn't it? Boutelle is very "funny", almost as comical as Reed.

There has been considerable active maneuvering on the part of the republican bosses around here of late. Clarkson has been holding private conferences with Quay, Alger, Blaine and Allison, and many think that Alger is trying to make a combine with Blaine either to take the second place on the ticket, or to obtain Blaine's support for the head, if he doesn't take it himself.

Senator Turpie succeeded, after a hard fight, in getting the Senate committee on the Judiciary to postpone the consideration of the nomination of Judge Woods as a member of the new Circuit court until Senator Voorhees gets back, which will be some time this week. No stone will be left unturned by the Indiana Senators to defeat the confirmation of Woods, but present indications are that the republicans will vote solidly for his confirmation

Having become satisfied that the Chilian minister has been "playing possom", as to the intentions of his country, the administration will, it is for the third or fourth time said, send the correspondence to congress this week with a message from Mr. Harrison recommending that war be declared. Congress is ready to meet him more than halfway, if the correspondence be of the nature it has been represented to be. A bill is pending in both house and Senate to repeal the law against the appointment of men who served in the Confederate Army and Navy to positions in the U. S. Army or Navy, in order that the Government may get the benefit of their services in the war with Chili, which is regarded as being almost a certainty.

Speaker Crisp is, he thinks, well enough to resume his duties, but to take no chances of a relapse he will be entirely guided by the advice of his physician as to exposing himself.

The Times Almanac for 1892 is fully up to the high standard heretofore reached by that publication. It is a handy reference book.

"How do I look?"

That depends, madam, upon how you feel. If you're suffering from functional disturbances, irregularities or weaknesses, you're sure to "look it." And Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the remedy. It builds up and invigorates the system, regulates and promotes the proper functions, and restores health and strength. It's a legitimate medicine, not a beverage; purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and made especially for woman's needs. In the cure of all "female complaints," it's guaranteed to give satisfaction, or the money is refunded. No other medicine for women is sold so. Think of that, when the dealer says something else (which pays him better) is "just as good."

"Times have changed." So have methods. The modern improvements in pills are Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They help Nature, instead of fighting with her. Sick and nervous headache, biliousness, costiveness, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are prevented, relieved, and cured.

I. W. HARTMAN & SONS.

We are not able to make the noise in our business that the eighteen Factories and Machine shop whistles do in Bloomsburg mornings and evenings, but nevertheless we are selling lots of half-price coats (which are not all cotton) also the cheapest lot of Muffs and Furs in the County. Now ready with bargains in long and short lengths, Embroideries, many of them big bargains. Blankets and Shawls on the list of bargains, with lots of heavy underwear, wool caps, leggins, heavy gloves &c., only a Shadow in prices. It ought to be understood by this time that white Butter will not sell in Bloomsburg. Unless we can buy yellow roll we shall be compelled to send off for fine Dairy Butter, as we wish to supply our customers with the best in Market.

Protect the Game.

The game supply of this country is a much more serious matter than the average man realizes. Unless we apply a remedy now, the day is not far distant when our pleasure of hunting will be confined to the absorbing pages of Theodore Roosevelt's most interesting books on big game.

There are three matters which in my opinion, should govern the rulings of every game State in this country, and form the basis of strict laws.

First.—Seasons laid out on a sportsmanlike basis, and by men familiar with the subject.

Second.—Game wardens of good character, and not reformed thieves, who shall have pecuniary interest in all the fines their vigilance brings about, and who shall be severely punished for neglect of their duty.

Third.—Every man convicted of a violation of the game laws should have a sentence of imprisonment as well as a fine; this would put a quietus on those wealthy city "sportsmen" who willingly pay a few dollars for the privilege of bagging big game; it would likewise save the game districts of our country.—Harper's Weekly.

EAST BENTON.

The greatest business rivals of the age are the Doctors and the "Grip."

If the disease continues spreading at the present alarming rate no family of our community will escape. Our whole family is afflicted with it and many of our neighbors.

The "Grip," the "Grip," the awful "Grip,"
Strikes its victims with a terrible rap,
It searches with an everlasting grit
And pounds every muscle with a terrible tap.

REMOVE THE CAUSE.—It is no doubt the correct thing to treat the symptoms of a disease, but this is not effective unless the cause of the complaint is removed. For instance, a fever may be treated with quinine, etc., but unless the cause is removed the fever will surely return. Again, the sores and eruption of Scrofula may be healed by mercury and potash treatment, but unless the cause of these symptoms is cleansed from the system, they will return or attack some of the delicate internal organs. Swift's Specific strikes at the cause of the trouble, and forces out the germs of disease, and the poison through the pores of the skin, and at the same time builds up the general health of the sufferer. Swift's Specific is a purely vegetable remedy, and is harmless to the most delicate, yet it never fails to eliminate the poison from the human body. We will mail a valuable book to all who will send for it.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating

Sick Headache

Heartburn

Sour Stomach

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." Carbolic acid taken from the household medical closet in the dark by mistake has caused another death. This time Police Justice Loan, of Baltimore, is the victim. When will the public learn that deadly drugs and poisons cannot be left about the house with impunity? This is the third death of this character within a few weeks.

Pointer For Advertisers.

M. M. Gillam, the advertising manager for John Wanamaker gives the following advice to advertisers in Printers' Ink of January 6; "Whether big or little, the advertisement should be persistent. Every day is the right rule for a general business and changed every day. Hold up one phase or another of it all the time. Make the readers look to your announcements as they look to news. Don't expect them to always carefully read what you say. They skip half the locals and telegrams, maybe - all but the headlines. You can be sure of a glance, at least—if you deserve it. Fill the advertisement so full of hooks that the glancer is likely to get caught. And work for the women. That's the secret of the greatest possible success in general merchandising."

Three Steps to a Scaffold.

[Printed at the request of the W. C. T. U.]

Three of my neighbors lay dead on Dec 3rd, which was a strange and rare coincidence in more ways than one. The first case was a member of a church, who had been a Sunday School teacher for more than twenty years. He was an exemplary citizen, and voted the Republican ticket. The second neighbor was Jacob Vallmer, a saloon keeper. He kept about as orderly a tavern as any other licensed saloon-keeper, when alive, and did a thriving business and was rapidly getting rich. His house was a great resort, and pitchers and buckets filled with beer could be seen coming and going, in the hands of men and women from dawn to midnight. The business was so important that it is alleged that one of his neighbors, a clerk in one of the courts, used his inside influence to have the license transferred to the widow a few hours after the owner's death. The third neighbor to leave the world was John McManus, who was hung that morning for murder. Bad though McManus was, he was the natural outcome of the saloon traffic. He was born in the slums, where the 'army of faith" never goes. He knew nothing but vice; it was all around him, and he grew up with it. The licensed saloon stared him in the face from every side, and it was as easy for him to fall into their open doors as it is for a young man raised on Walnut street to enter the doors of the most refined society. As he walked to the scaffold, carrying the uplifted crucifix in his hand, the emblem of a Crucified Redeemer who died for John McManus, as well as for the Rev. Theodore Cuyler, D. D., he protested at every step of that awful march, from the cell down to the gallows, that he was drunk when he committed the crime. He was drunk, men and women of the land, and he got drunk in a licensed saloon, licensed by the vote of members of Christian churches. These were my three neighbors who lay dead in one day, neither of them over two hundred yards from me. Here lay the churchman who voted the licensed ticket. Here lay the saloon keeper who took advantage of the license, which was granted because the churchman voted that it should be granted. Lastly, there was John McManus, the victim of the licensed saloon, who, while crazed with licensed rum, committed a murder and then in turn was legally murdered by the State. And there was another strange thing about it. Each one of them had religious ceremonies over their ashes. What think you of my three neighbors? Does not the church-member, the saloon-keeper, and the victim stand in close relation in this peculiar instance? Have we not here the licensed voter, the licensed saloon-keeper and the licensed saloon victim?

You've tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription have you and you're disappointed. The results are not immediate.

The Country Nwspaper: As it Was, and As It Is.

Dr. Chapin said, more than a generation ago, that any man who could cross Broadway at Fulton street had brains enough for the making of a country editor. This was not so severe a disparagement of the country editor as it seems on the face of the allegation to be. For it really did require, and does require now, no small amount of gray cerebral matter to perform the feat mentioned. And when one remembers that Dr. Chapin was more than a little myopic, and from defective vision could not be sure some truck or express wagon shouldn't hit him before he touched the opposite curbstone, it is easy to understand that the gravamen of the comparison was not meant to rest heavily upon the editor.

I am reminded of this humorous and forcible hyperbole when I contemplate for a moment the changes which have come over rural journalism in but little more than a generation of time.

The newspaper of the early boyhood of some men still living was almost always issued at the county seat, where there were usually two—one representative of each of the two great parties. It was always a weekly, and such copies as were not sent out by the mail stage were dispatched by a horseback rider, or by a market and freight wagon often that ran, perhaps, twenty-five or thirty miles over the country to and from the chief town or county seat. It was a great event in those days when the paper arrived in the back town, for it gave the bucolic world its hebdomadal peep into the larger world, whose affairs were henceforth to go to sleep again from rural notice until the next week's issue renewed the history. Without a telegraph, without the railway even, with exchanges equally as destitute of stirring topics as his own sheet must perforce be, the country editor really needed no little wit to print so readable a sheet as he often did.

What he had to depend on mainly was, of course, selected "miscellany." If he wielded the scissors well, and could adapt and quote from the writing of others with propriety, he was sure of no little local fame, and often received a generous support. Important court doings, marriages and deaths, and an occasional hanging, made up the local news; and a steamer arrival from Europe, casualities and crimes, occasional election returns, and the proceedings of Congress and the State Legislature, with the President's and Governor's messsages, afforded the topics of general interest. Over the foreign news was usually put the picture of a sailing vessel; and over a few stickfuls of any specially new and important—such as the latest election returns, for instance—might be noticed the galloping horse and rider, with a long scroll bearing some legend, and a numbered milepost near, supposed to be flying rearward.

There was an occasional traveler's letter, to be sure, whose writer was taking a stage journey, perhaps, of fifty or seventy-five miles, and who reported the small incidents thereof with as much seriousness and wonder as now accompany Stanley's accounts of African exploration or Stevens' bicycle trip around the world. From some little town or post-office hamlet there were occasional brief letters signed "Justitia," "Vindex," "Junius," or "Spectator," not giving any special local news, but discussing some governmental affair of the nation, State or county in highly rounded classical or Addisonian periods. Quite often these letters were full of Jeffersonian or Federal sentiments, with quotations from the leaders of these two currents of thought; and not seldom they were forcibly and gracefully written.

But a noted place in the country weekly of long ago was the Poet's Corner, or "The Muse" as it was sometimes termed. Only the other day I was looking over a number of bound volumes of two or three country weeklies from fifty to seventy-five years old, and was surprised at the brightness of some of this verse. It was both original and selected—the latter invariably good, and the former occasionally of extreme or notable merit. Why shouldn't it have been? Here Whittier first essayed to sing, and here Bryant, Holmes, Longfellow and others who have achieved fame tried their maiden flights. Whittier was a blushing boy when the postman or paper rider threw the paper containing his first effusion over the fence, where he was at work with his father, but he did not dare to say that he had left the farm or the furrow momentarily out of thought for so frivolous a business as this. Few readers imagined that that week's issue of a country paper bore to them the beginning of a great and endeared reputation.

The improvement of the printing press and the extension of the railroad, with the telegraph soon to follow, transformed many things—the country newspaper along with the rest. The consequent multiplicity of events compelled conciseness and evolved the paragraphist. The editor could no longer enlighten his little town and vicinage by editorials a column long; he was now also obliged, unless the case was extraordinary, to cudgel the villainous editor of the scurvy paper up the street, in paragraphs only. So much news came that either must be boiled down or omitted that whole columns of items, making from one or two lines only, to not more than eight or ten, were a weekly necessity. This involved work, and developed tact and taste. I don't think the small paragraph, as an institution, was observable in country papers much over forty years ago; but how well it has grown since everybody sees. It has played its part admirably and represents the American spirit as few things do: for in the press of no other country do genius and wit coruscate and puncture as they do here. Of course, it is not in the country paper alone that such brevity and sententiousness are common; but it has helped along and profted by these traits.

George D. Prentice, the famous Kentucky editor, was an adept and pioneer in making short paragraphs. I think a book of them was once published from his paper. When his neighbor across the street said, in a political squib, that "Our party knows how the land lies on this question."

"Yes,' said Prentice, "and the land knows how your party lies on this question."

Whether in repartee or in direct humor, he said some of the most notably smart things that have ever appeared in newspapers. But to quote further from them would lead us too far.

Next to the short paragraph the most distinctive trait of the modern country paper is its omnium gatherum of local news. It now has hardly less, and often more, than a single page of township and adjacent village correspondence. It is true, some of this is trivial, but many of the writers of it live merely on a country cross road, and perhaps the paper they receive can boast for its centre little more than a double cross-road hamlet. Yet from every source the readers get what they want. The are told all that happens and what everyone is doing; that Farmer Jones has put up a new horse-block, and Merchant Smith has painted his door-yard fence and repaired the front gate. No fish are too small for the local net, and the facility with which little tidbits of gossip are served up is really quite attractive.

The old country paper was more serious and solemn. It rarely printed the most of people's names more than twice—when they married and when they died. To-day nobody's name is too obscure to escape mention at no inconsiderable intervals. The harmless gossip which thus goes about is not only what everyone wishes to read, but it is made necessary by the invasion of the metropolitan weekly, which is sold at half the country paper's price. The local field the local paper can hold, and its prominence is therefore justified.

I do not believe the average country paper now is really so much better than the average one fifty years ago. It is different because it must be. It is made to fit a different environment, and to cater to different needs. Once the rural reader took only one paper. Now he takes several—a daily paper and specialized ones, and the magazines besides. You can leave many things out of the country paper to-day, and they will not be missed. But the ancient editor had a good deal of the magazine's function as well as that of the metropolitan daily's to fulfill. The best of the country papers that our fathers read were prime forces in their day, and the editor then was a great man, and identified with his sheet as no editor can be now. He was a good giver and taker of blows, and they were not of velvet. His weekly argument with the other editor near at hand was writing of the utmost life and vascularity. 'Twas the condiment for the weekly feast, and though the editorial debate exists to-day, to what dimensions it has shrunk as a field of human interest. To see how good the old-time papers were, look in any well-selected scrap-book of the period in which they existed. The country paper, then at its best, as it is now, was one of the pleasantest expressions of the human mind.—Joel Benton in Printers' Ink.

Queen Victoria's excessive prostration at the death of her favorite grandson, Prince Albert Victor, is said by London gossip, to be largely due to the fact that the heir to the throne and Princess May desired her sanction to their engagement and early marriage three or four years ago, which she refused to give at the time. If the consent had not been withheld the Princess would have something left to console her at the deathbed

"JACK THE SLASHER" CAUGHT.

Capture of a Crank Who has Hacked Six Men in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—"Jack the Slasher," the human fiend who has been cutting the throats of helpless drunkards in the streets of the lower part of the Fourth ward was caught red handed early yesterday morning.

He had just slashed the throat of another victim in James street and was putting his bloody razor in his pocket when four policemen sprang upon him.

The name of the fiend is Henry G. Dowd. He was born in London and is forty-five years of age. His family connections are good. He is a nephew by marriage of Samuel N. Hoyt, the Brooklyn millionaire, who is a brother and executor of the late millionaire Jesse Hoyt.

Dowd is insane. Since December 29, he has cut the throats of six men. "I did it," he said, "and I did it because I could not help it. A good many years ago a German wronged my mother. I have been hunting that German ever since and when I see a man that looks like him I cannot resist the temptation to cut his throat."

OVER 400 LIVES LOST.

The Chinese Steamship Namchow Sunk. Nearly All Drowned.

HONG KONG, Jan. 14.—The Anglo-Chinese trading steamship Namchow has gone down off Cape Hu Point, and 414 persons, including the European crew, have been drowned.

The steamship Meifoo brought the news of the wreck. The propeller shaft of the Namchow snapped in two. The sea rushed into the shaft alley, which was badly damaged.

There was a terrible panic among the 300 or 400 Chinese passengers. The few Europeans fighting for the boats and lifebelts. Several Chinese and Europeans are reported to have been killed by knife thrusts and pistol shots. The steamer Meifoo rescued the few survivors.

FOR DUNHAM'S MURDER.

George M. Fuller Arrested for Shooting the Belleville Hotel Proprietor.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 14.—George M. Fuller, of Paterson, who was wanted by the Newark police, for the murder of William H. Dunham, the Belleville Road House proprietor, was captured at Little Falls, N. J., yesterday afternoon.

Fuller was well known to the Dunhams. He was in love with Blanche Curran, a beautiful young woman of questionable reputation, who resided at the Atlantic Park Hotel in Newark, kept by Mrs. Julia Williams. Dunham was also in love with Blanche and wanted to see her the night he was shot. Jealousy is alleged as a motive for the crime.

PACIFIC STEAMER WRECKED.

Chili Expects to Capture Refugees Among Her Passengers.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Pacific Steam Navigation Company's steamer John Elder, from Valparaiso for Liverpool, has been wrecked on Caranza Rock, in the Straits of Magellan. All the passengers and the crew of the steamer were saved, but the vessel herself, it is expected, will be a total loss.

The Chilian government expects to capture Balmacedist refugees who were aboard.

HILL TOOK BANK FUNDS.

Experts Find That the Jamesburg Cashier Was Short $25,000.

NEW BRUNSWICK, Jan. 14.—The examination of the books of the late Wilton Hill, cashier of the Jamesburg Bank, by experts is finished.

It is officially stated that he was an embezzler in the sum of $25,000, as originally charged. It is also known that his estate is involved by debt to the extent of $20,000.

Flood at Oneonta, N. Y.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Jan. 15.—Great excitement prevails at Oneonta, N. Y., because of a flood, only surpassed by the Johnstown deluge two years ago. On account of the present heavy rain, which has prevailed for two days, West Oneonta Creek has risen so that its banks can no longer contain the raging torrent.

Fifty acres of land near the village of Oneonta are submerged. Several barns and outhouses have been swept away, also several bridges. The house of Theodore Green was washed down the stream.

There's Music in the Air.

This genius is away up in G, and is engaged in the literal fulfillment of a very common expression. It is as seldom that musical notes are seen floating over housetops, as it is that bank notes are found growing on bushes. Our artist has therefore photographed them on the spot. The man in the picture is on top. So is J. Saltzer, the well known dealer in all kinds of musical instruments and sewing machines. He handles the Steck, Estey and Starr pianos; the Estey, Miller and United States Organs:

ARABIAN NIGHTS AGAIN

A WONDERFUL CAVE DISCOVERED NEAR PETERBOROUGH, ONT.

Subterranean Cavern Paved With Solid Silver—The Roof Studded With Stalactites—The Revelations of a Dying Counterfeiter in Prison.

PETERBOROUGH, Ont., Jan 18.—Two half-breeds were arrested some years ago for counterfeiting and were given long terms in prison at Kingston. Their counterfeits proved to be of pure silver. One of the men died in prison and the other escaped and was shot on the Canadian border in the Northwest.

Before dying he told his physician, Dr. Young, about a wonderful cave in this vicinity, whose floor and sides were said to contain large quantities of pure silver. This information was turned over to A. P. Pousett, Q. C. As a result sixty acres of farming land were bought near here and mining was begun. One of the miners recently discovered a cleft in the side of a rocky hill, and passing through a narrow passage entered a magnificent cave.

Lights were procured and the cave was explored. The sides were found to be formed of marble, the ceiling and floor of pure silver. About fifty feet from the entrance was a subterranean lake, extending as far as the eye could reach. A dugout was found upon a shelf of rock and launched. At a distance of 300 feet the explorers found another platform leading into a second chamber.

The roof was about twenty feet high and studded with stalactites. Twelve pounds of the ore have been found to contain $11 worth of silver. Armed men are guarding the cave. The principal stockholders of the mine are A. P. Pousett, Q. C., A. V. Young and A. E. Dixon, all of Peterborough.

TWO CARDINALS DEAD.

Manning Passes Away at Westminster, Simeoni at Rome.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Cardinal Henry Edward Manning, the distinguished prelate of the Roman Catholic Church, died at 8.20 this morning at the archbishop's house, Westminster.

The aged divine had been ill for some time past with the influenza, now prevailing as a violent epidemic throughout Europe.

His Eminence Henry Edward, Cardinal Priest of the Roman Church, and Archbishop of Westminster, was the son of the late Wm. Manning, esq., M. P., merchant, of London.

He was born at Totteridge, Hertfordshire, July 15, 1808, was educated at Harrow and Balliol College, Oxford. He entered the priesthood in 1857. Pope Pius IX, created him a Cardinal Priest, March 15, 1875.

ROME, Jan. 14.—Cardinal Simeoni, formerly Papal Secretary of State and Prefect General of the Propaganda, died to-day. His death was due to an attack of influenza from which he had been suffering for several days.

CHIEF JUDGE RUGER'S DEATH.

A Vacancy at the Head of the Highest Court in New York State.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan 15.—William C. Ruger, Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals, died to-day after an illness of only a week, catarrh of the stomach causing his death. He had not been in good health for a long time.

Judge Ruger was born at Bridgewater, Oneida county, on January 30, 1824. He was admitted to the bar at Utica in July, 1845, and began practice at Bridgewater, where he remained until 1853, when he came to Syracuse.

In 1863 and 1865 he was the candidate of his party for member of Congress, but was defeated. He was elected president at the first meeting of the State Bar Association held at Albany in 1876, and he held the same office again in 1882.

In 1882 Judge Ruger was elected Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals, his opponent having been Judge Charles Andrews.

GREAT FIRE IN LEEDS.

A Loss of Over $1,000,000—A Fireman Burned to Death.

LEEDS, England, Jan. 14.—The Watson stores, a warehouse, was destroyed by fire. The flames also destroyed the railway stations owned by the Midland, Northeastern, Northwestern and Sheffield and Lincoln Companies. Several bridges over the River Ayres, and barges in the stream, were burned.

At noon James Scofield, a member of the Leeds Fire Brigade, fell from the railway platform and was burned to death. The loss will reach £250,000, or $1,250,000.

It is announced that from this time forth Gov. Boies of Iowa will openly take the field as a presidential candidate.

Physicians Can't Cure.

SEDAMSVILLE, Hamilton Co., O., June, 1890. One bottle of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic cured me entirely, after physicians had tried unsuccessfully for eight months to relieve me of nervous debility. W. RUENNEFELD.

DELHI, Ont., Jan. 14, 1891. My wife has taken six bottles of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic; she has had no return of the fits, and I think this remedy has had the desired effect. I cheerfully recommend it to any one suffering from that dreadful malady "Epilepsy." JOHN GRANT.

BROCKTON, Mass., June 17, 1890. About a year ago I noticed my right hand continually shaking. I tried different medicines but they all had no effect. * * * After using three or four bottles of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic my hand ceased to shake and I found myself gaining every day. I think this medicine is one of the greatest remedies. THOS. O'REILLY.

Many pleasures in life are due to good health and good looks. Manner's Double Extract Sarsaparilla will bring pleasures as it increases the appetite, relieves all disorders arising from bad blood such as Headache, Constipation Boils and pimples which when driven out of the system brings good looks. Manner's Double Extract Sarsaparilla can be found at all drug stores also at Moyer Bro's tf.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. C. A. Kleim, druggist.

Rich Men's Ailings.

It is an old axiom that health is the greatest of all riches, and it is a thing that money will often not buy. Indeed, the possession of great wealth is a predisposing cause of a number of complaints. This, says a Paris letter to the New York Tribune, is the opinion of Dr. Monin, who has defended it in a book just published, entitled "Rich Men's Evils." The list of diseases which escort the rich man is not a long one, but it is, if one may call it so, a substantial one.

The possessor of several hundred thousand dollars has the choice between stomach complaints of various sorts, congestions, apoplexies, rheumatisms acute and subacute, gout, headaches of every degree, affections of the heart, pleurisy and asthma, liver complaints, jaundice, roseole (from which Queen Victoria suffers), sleeplessness, nervous exhaustion, beside a number of artificial distempers which are within the reach of all who can purchase morphine, cocaine, and ether.

Whatever your choice may be you may console yourself by the thought that you suffer in good company. Rheumatic people will remember that Mme. de Sevigne, who was a sufferer from it, wore a cheerful countenance and delighted her friends with her sparkling wit. The gouty celebrities form a brilliant host: Horace, Leibnitz, Erasmus, Kant, Franklin, Milton (I give their names as they occur, not in chronological order), Darwin, Sydenham.

As you see, doctors are not exempt from it. Literary people are placed by Dr. Monin in company with millionaires, an association no doubt flattering to both, but none the less unlooked for. The weight in their purses, however, has nothing to do with this. But, like plutocrats, they lead a sedentary life, dissipate a quantity of vital energy, and are obliged, on that account, to have a substantial diet. Literary men and women are therefore subject to dyspepsia and gout.

Wheat in America.

Prior to the discovery of this continent by Columbus there was no cereal in America, either north or south, which approached in nature to the wheat plant, says the St. Louis Republic. It was not until 1530 that it found its way into Mexico.

It may be difficult to realize the fact that wheat was at one time wholly unknown in such an immense country and one so favorable to its production, but such was the case. It was in 1530 that a poor slave belonging to Cortez found a few grains of wheat in a parcel of rice; he showed them to his master, who ordered them to be planted. The result showed that wheat would thrive well on Mexican soil, and to-day one of the finest wheat valleys in the world is near the Mexican capital.

From Mexico the cereal found its way to Peru. Marie d'Escobar, wife of Don Diego de Chauves, carried a few grains to Lima, the entire product for several successive years being used for seed.

At Quito, Ecuador, a monk of the Order of St. Francis, named Fra Jodoai Bixi, introduced the new bread grain, and it is said that the jar in which the pious man kept the original seed is still preserved at Quito.

Wheat was introduced into the present limits of the United States contemporaneously with the settlement of the country by the English and other Europeans.

Lamp-chimneys cost so little that we let them go on breaking. We go on buying and grumbling.

What should we do?

Get Macbeth's "Pearl-top" and "Pearl-glass;" they are made of tough glass, tough against heat; they do not break in use; they do from accident.

They are fine, well made, exact; they fit the lamps they are made for; stand upright; the shade is right; they make a right draught for light; they are uniform. Both bear a label for your protection. Look for it.

Be willing to pay a nickel more and stop this constant expense and annoyance.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Stands at the head of all blood medicines. This position it has secured by its intrinsic merit, sustained by the opinion of leading physicians, and by the certificates of thousands who have successfully tested its remedial worth. No other medicine so effectually

CURES

Scrofula, boils, pimples, rheumatism, catarrh, and all other blood diseases.

"There can be no question as to the superiority of Ayer's Sarsaparilla over all other blood-purifiers. If this was not the case, the demand for it, instead of increasing yearly, would have ceased long ago, like so many other blood medicines I could name."—F. L. Nickerson, Druggist, 75 Chelsea st., Charlestown, Mass.

"Two years ago I was troubled with salt-rheum. It was all over my body, and nothing the doctors did for me was of any avail. At last I took four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and was completely cured. I can sincerely recommend it as a splendid blood-purifier."—J. S. Burt, Upper Keswick, New Brunswick.

"My sister was afflicted with a severe case of

SCROFULA

Our doctor recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla as being the best blood blood-purifier within his experience. We gave her this medicine, and a complete cure was the result."—Wm. O. Jenkins, Deweese, Neb.

"When a boy I was troubled with a blood disease which manifested itself in sores on the legs. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being recommended, I took a number of bottles, and was cured. I have never since that time had a recurrence of the complaint."—J. C. Thompson, Lowell, Mass.

"I was cured of Scrofula by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—John C. Berry, Deerfield, Mo.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

What is
CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

Will Bardsley Speak.

It is not known what expectations or understanding influenced John Bardsley when he stubbornly declined to give any information as to those who were associated with him in his colossal theft of city and State money, but it is evident that he either had an understanding with certain party leaders, or had well-defined expectations, that his silence would hasten his release from prison. It is not conceivable that Bardsley was actuated to seal his lips by any sense of chivalry or of honor among thieves. It is probable that he had no agreement with any responsible leader on the subject, but no man better understands the ins and outs of potent party men, and if he had no agreement, he believed that his expectations were well founded.

A felon's cell at Cherry Hill is not conducive to a hopeful condition of the mind of an inmate, and it is now intimated that Bardsley has greatly weakened his courage and that he is likely to take an early opportunity to give the whole story of his embezzlements. As a Congressional Committee will soon be here to inquire into the as yet unknown causes of the theft in the Keystone National Bank, he will have an opportunity to speak if he shall desire to unseal his lips. The Congressional Commtttee will doubtless mean business, and it will probe this defalcation to the core. It is accepted on every side as a reproach upon our city and State, that millions of money have been stolen and that as yet the public is entirely ignorant of who got the money or what was done with it. That influential parties have hindered the inquiry in some unseen way cannot now be doubted.

But suppose Bardsley should now tell all that he knows? It goes without saying that he would not be believed unless clearly corroborated by other evidence, but that is no reason why he should not be heard if he is willing to tell anything. If he shall tell the truth he would doubtless open channels of information that have hitherto been closed, and make it possible for the Congressional Committee to find witnesses and develop evidence that can be had only by Bardsley giving the cue. He now stands before the public as a confessed purjurer and thief and it is a just rule of law that he who is false in one thing is false in all, but while Bardsley's evidence would not of itself criminate any man, it might instruct the committee of inquiry where to turn and how to act.

The only possible attonement that Bardsley can now make to the city and State he so largely wronged, would be to tell the truth. If he should testify and his testimony should be established as true by other witnesses, it would lay the ground work for some degree of popular sympathy that might sooner or later aid his release If he shall not speak, nothing short of hopeless physical or mental wreck could plead for his escape from the penitentiary before the fulfillment of his entire sentence.—Times

Many pleasures in life are due to good health and good looks. Manner's Double Extract Sarsaparilla will bring pleasures as it increases the appetite, relieves all disorders arising from bad blood such as Headache, Constipation Boils and pimples which when driven out of the system brings good looks. Manner's Double Extract Sarsaparilla can be found at all drug stores also at Moyer Bro's tf.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. C. A. Klein, druggist.

Rich Men's Ailings.

It is an old axiom that health is the greatest of all riches, and it is a thing that money will often not buy. Indeed, the possession of great wealth is a predisposing cause of a number of complaints. This, says a Paris letter to the New York Tribune, is the opinion of Dr. Monin, who has defended it in a book just published, entitled "Rich Men's Evils." The list of diseases which escort the rich man is not a long one, but it is, if one may call it so, a substantial one.

The possessor of several hundred thousand dollars has the choice between stomach complaints of various sorts, congestions, apoplexies, rheumatisms acute and subacute, gout, headaches of every degree, affections of the heart, pleurisy and asthma, liver complaints, jaundice, roseole (from which Queen Victoria suffers), sleeplessness, nervous exhaustion, beside a number of artificial distempers which are within the reach of all who can purchase morphine, cocaine, and ether.

Whatever your choice may be you may console yourself by the thought that you suffer in good company. Rheumatic people will remember that Mme. de Sevigne, who was a sufferer from it, were a cheerful countenance and delighted her friends with her sparkling wit. The gouty celebrities form a brilliant host: Darwin, Leibnitz, Erasmus, Kant, Franklin, Milton (I give their names as they occur, not in chronological order), Darwin, Sydenham.

As you see, doctors are not exempt from it. Literary people are placed by Dr. Monin in company with millionaires, an association no doubt flattering to both, but none the less unlooked for. The weight in their purses, however, has nothing to do with this. But, like plutocrats, they lead a sedentary life, dissipate a quantity of vital energy, and are obliged, on that account, to have a substantial diet. Literary men and women are therefore subject to dyspepsia and gout.

Wheat in America.

Prior to the discovery of this continent by Columbus there was no cereal in America, either north or south, which approached in nature to the wheat plant, says the St. Louis Republic. It was not until 1530 that it found its way into Mexico.

It may be difficult to realize the fact that wheat was at one time wholly unknown in such an immense country and one so favorable to its production, but such was the case. It was in 1530 that a poor slave belonging to Cortez found a few grains of wheat in a parcel of rice; he showed them to his master, who ordered them to be planted. The result showed that wheat would thrive well on Mexican soil, and to-day one of the finest wheat valleys in the world is near the Mexican capital.

From Mexico the cereal found its way to Peru. Marie d'Escobar, wife of Don Diego de Chauves, carried a few grains to Lima, the entire product for several successive years being used for seed.

At Quito, Ecuador, a monk of the Order of St. Francis, named Fra Jodoai Bixi, introduced the new bread grain, and it is said that the jar in which the pious man kept the original seed is still preserved at Quito.

Wheat was introduced into the present limits of the United States contemporaneously with the settlement of the country by the English and other Europeans.

Lamp-chimneys cost so little that we let them go on breaking. We go on buying and grumbling.

What should we do?

Get Macbeth's "Pearl-top" and "Pearl-glass;" they are made of tough glass, tough against heat; they do not break in use; they do from accident.

They are fine, well made, exact; they fit the lamps they are made for; stand upright; the shade is right; they make a right draught for light; they are uniform. Both bear a label for your protection. Look for it.

Be willing to pay a nickel more and stop this constant expense and annoyance.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Stands at the head of all blood medicines. This position it has secured by its intrinsic merit, sustained by the opinion of leading physicians, and by the certificates of thousands who have successfully tested its remedial worth. No other medicine so effectually

CURES

Scrofula, boils, pimples, rheumatism, catarrh, and all other blood diseases.

"There can be no question as to the superiority of Ayer's Sarsaparilla over all other blood-purifiers. If this was not the case, the demand for it, instead of increasing yearly, would have ceased long ago, like so many other blood medicines I could name."—F. L. Nickerson, Druggist, 75 Chelsea st., Charlestown, Mass.

"Two years ago I was troubled with saltrheum. It was all over my body, and nothing the doctors did for me was of any avail. At last I took four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and was completely cured. I can sincerely recommend it as a splendid blood-purifier."—J. S. Burt, Upper Keswick, New Brunswick.

"My sister was afflicted with a severe case of

SCROFULA

Our doctor recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla as being the best blood blood-purifier within his experience. We gave her this medicine, and a complete cure was the result."—Wm. O. Jenkins, Deweese, Neb.

"When a boy I was troubled with a blood disease which manifested itself in sores on the legs. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being recommended, I took a number of bottles, and was cured. I have never since that time had a recurrence of the complaint."—J. C. Thompson, Lowell, Mass.

"I was cured of Scrofula by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—John C. Berry, Deerfield, Mo.

What is
CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

Will Bardsley Speak.

It is not known what expectations or understanding influenced John Bardsley when he stubbornly declined to give any information as to those who were associated with him in his colossal theft of city and State money, but it is evident that he either had an understanding with certain party leaders, or had well-defined expectations, that his silence would hasten his release from prison. It is not conceivable that Bardsley was actuated to seal his lips by any sense of chivalry or of honor among thieves. It is probable that he had no agreement with any responsible leader on the subject, but no man better understands the ins and outs of potent party men, and if he had no agreement, he believed that his expectations were well founded.

A felon's cell at Cherry Hill is not conducive to a hopeful condition of the mind of an inmate, and it is now intimated that Bardsley has greatly weakened his courage and that he is likely to take an early opportunity to give the whole story of his embezzlements. As a Congressional Committee will soon be here to inquire into the as yet unknown causes of the theft in the Keystone National Bank, he will have an opportunity to speak if he shall desire to unseal his lips. The Congressional Committtee will doubtless mean business, and it will probe this defalcation to the core. It is accepted on every side as a reproach upon our city and State, that millions of money have been stolen and that as yet the public is entirely ignorant of who got the money or what was done with it. That influential parties have hindered the inquiry in some unseen way cannot now be doubted.

But suppose Bardsley should now tell all that he knows? It goes without saying that he would not be believed unless clearly corroborated by other evidence, but that is no reason why he should not be heard if he is willing to tell anything. If he shall tell the truth he would doubtless open channels of information that have hitherto been closed, and make it possible for the Congressional Committee to find witnesses and develop evidence that can be had only by Bardsley giving the cue. He now stands before the public as a confessed purjurer and thief and it is a just rule of law that he who is false in one thing is false in all, but while Bardsley's evidence would not of itself criminate any man, it might instruct the committee of inquiry where to turn and how to act.

The only possible attonement that Bardsley can now make to the city and State he so largely wronged, would be to tell the truth. If he should testify and his testimony should be established as true by other witnesses, it would lay the ground work for some degree of popular sympathy that might sooner or later aid his release If he shall not speak, nothing short of hopeless physical or mental wreck could plead for his escape from the penitentiary before the fulfillment of his entire sentence.—Times
